Reliable System Services Corp. Expands Operation in CIA Managed Facility

Cunningham, Ingram & Anderson Inc. assists network and wireless technology company with growth into larger facility.

MELBOURNE, Fla., December 23, 2008 – Reliable System Services Corporation, which delivers electronics engineering solutions across a broad spectrum of network and wireless technologies to the DOD, federal government, and major prime contractors, expanded their operations at Perimeter Center on Eau Gallie Blvd. from an 806 sq. ft. office to 2,673 sq. ft.

“It’s great to see a company expand” said Bruce Ingram, President of CIA Developers. “It’s especially exciting to see a strong performing company like RSS Corp. grow within the CIA Portfolio.”

RSS Corp’s recent contract with the U.S. Navy for the SeaLancet™ RT-1944/U tactical radio has significantly increased their need for operational space. The SeaLancet™ was designed in partnership with Melbourne based Harris Corporation as part of the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program. The Sealancet communicates high-volume sensor data from multiple Navy platforms to distant tactical ships, such as the LCS. In July of 2008 RSS Corp and Harris successfully performed a live “over-the-ocean” demonstration of their new Sealancet tactical radio.

“The Sealancet contract is an example of how quickly our space requirements can change” said Emilio Powers, President of RSS. “CIA was able to seamlessly accommodate our needs.”
